Dear Business Owner/Manager

Following the tremendous achievements of the 2023 cruise season, the Port of Corner Brook is thrilled to announce that we anticipate thirty-six scheduled cruise ship calls, with a capacity of 56,000 passengers and 23,700 crew this season. The Greater Corner Brook Board of Trade, Corner Brook Port Corporation and other community partners involved in the Corner Brook Cruise Network are pleased to provide you with this information package regarding the 2024 cruise season. Included in this package is a season schedule, steps to take to make the most of cruise ship days, general information and key contacts. New this season, we've included a list of detailed ship itineraries and sample storefront signage.

Please be advised that any changes to the cruise ship schedule, such as adjustments to arrival or departure times and cancellations, will be promptly communicated on the Port of Corner Brook's Facebook page and website (www.cornerbrookport.com/cruise-schedule), as well as through email. If you wish to receive email updates throughout the cruise season, please send a message to contact@cornerbrookport.com.

If you have any questions about the information package or would like a printed copy, please contact one of the partner organizations listed below and they will be happy to assist you.

Outlined below are various methods to entice cruise customers to visit your business. We encourage you to think outside the box and try new, innovative approaches throughout the season. At the end of the season, we would love to learn what tips and tricks worked best for you!

Consider Accepting US Currency

The majority of our cruise tourists are from the United States. Regardless of whether you decide to accept US currency, it's a good idea to stay on top of the current US-CAN exchange rate to help guests calculate the price of the items you sell.

Take Care of the Ship Crew

Don't overlook the needs of the crew! In addition to souvenirs, they are on the lookout for everyday items, such as detergent and snacks, that can be quite costly on board the vessel. Phone cards are also a popular item amongst both passengers and crew.

Plan Ahead and Staff Accordingly

Consider hosting a pre-season meeting to ensure your staff are prepared to welcome cruise tourists. Then on a ship's arrival day, it is essential to ensure that you have enough staff scheduled to handle the extra demand. Another option to consider is adjusting your operating hours to better align with a vessel's time in port.

Enhance your Storefront to Tailor Cruise

Offering complimentary Wi-Fi is a surefire way to delight cruise guests! If your business provides this service, you should consider displaying a sign in your storefront. On days when cruise ships are in port, you might choose to create a customized welcome sign, adorn your entrance with balloons, or even host a live musician! A vibrant and lively storefront will attract cruise guests and locals alike.

Partner with Another Business for Cross-Promotion

Consider the pairings that catch tourists' attention (coffee and books, souvenirs and photos, etc.) and collaborate with other businesses to create joint coupon codes. This is extremely helpful when one of the businesses involved is slightly hidden or situated beyond the downtown core.

Reevaluate your Product Offering

When purchasing, packaging and bundling your product(s) be mindful that cruise tourists often have limited space in their luggage. For bulkier items, you may want to consider offering shipping. When looking for souvenirs, passengers and crew often focus on purchasing items that remind them of their time in port, such as magnets, NL-branded t-shirts, and treats. We also encourage businesses to be well-versed in the rules and regulations on what passengers can and cannot bring across the border (ex: product made from antlers).

Offer Special Promotions

If you operate a restaurant, consider offering a special menu with traditional Newfoundland dishes while cruise guests are in Port. Do you sell spirits? If so, you could consider bringing in local products or hosting a Screech-In ceremony.

Have Maps and Guide Booklets Available

Visiting a new city can be overwhelming at first. You can help ease tourists worries by having takeaway maps readily available for them. The City of Corner Brook and Visitors Information Centre are eager to assist you.

Showcase Your Love for Corner Brook

Tourists are interested in visiting the best restaurants, purchasing the coolest souvenirs and embracing the unique culture and history of our City when in Port. Be prepared to share all of your local favorites!

Share Your Special Events with Us

Did you know: CBPC staff provide the Captain with a list of events and other important information to announce prior to docking at the Port? We also have Cruise Information Officers dockside to assist passengers and crew and provide them with recommendations for their time in port!

Passengers and crew often inquire about locating various businesses and services. It's beneficial to ensure your staff can provide directions from your location to nearby amenities like ATMs, grocery stores, liquor stores, shopping areas, post offices, and coffee shops. Additionally, knowing directions to local attractions such as Captain Cook's Lookout or the Corner Brook Stream Trail can enhance the visitor experience.

When providing directions to visitors, keep these tips in mind to ensure they find their way with ease:

- Speak slowly and clearly.
- Use identifiable landmarks as points of reference.
- Incorporate visuals if possible to make it easier for visitors to locate a destination.
- Provide an estimate of the distance and time required to reach the destination.
- Consider the abilities of the visitors and suggest alternative transportation options if necessary.
- Provide additional details, such as admission prices or operating hours, to enhance the visitor experience.

Cruise Ship Itineraries

Corner Brook is well-positioned to attract cruise ships from three primary itineraries: Trans-Atlantic, Canada New England and the Artic. Cruise ships often follow a Trans-Atlantic itinerary as they prepare to reposition their vessel from the East to the West. The Canada New England itinerary coincides with fall foliage in Atlantic Canada while the North Atlantic and Northwest Passage is gaining popularity as passengers seek adventure in unique, remote locations.
